

HD EQUINE BUYER'S GUIDE

Buyer Responsibility

The buyer is responsible for thoroughly evaluating a horse before purchasing.

This includes, but is not limited to, assessing:

- Conformation and soundness
- Size and suitability
- Temperament and attitude
- Training level and riding ability
- Manners on the ground and under saddle

We strongly encourage buyers to ask questions, request additional videos, speak with us directly, schedule a visit when possible, and arrange a prepurchase exam with a veterinarian of their choice.

Purchasing a horse without adequate research, communication, or evaluation is done at the buyer's discretion. Once a horse is purchased, ownership and responsibility transfer to the buyer.

Honest Representation

At HD Equine, we are committed to honest representation. Every horse is described to the best of our knowledge based on our experience with them in real-life ranch and riding situations. However, horses are living animals, and behavior or performance may change depending on environment, handling, rider ability, and care.

Our goal is not just to sell horses—but to help each horse find the right home.

Final Thoughts

We appreciate buyers who take the time to ensure a horse is the right fit for their needs and abilities. Clear communication and realistic expectations create the best outcomes for both horse and rider.

If you have any questions, concerns, or would like additional information on a horse, we are always happy to help.
